Upon receipt of authorization to return product, the customer is required to denote the Return Material Authorization number on the original packing list and ship the product in the original carton in resaleable condition to the designated GEMCO Medical facility.

Defective products in addition to the above require a detailed description of the defect be provided prior to issuance of a RMA for the return. GEMCO Medical will inspect the defective product in accordance with the manufacturer's requirements and then determine if the product will be repaired, replaced or credited.
